

May 22, 2021

Postal Regulatory Commission
901 New York Ave, NW Suite 200
Washington, DC

RECEIVED

2021 JUN 14 P 3:44

POSTAL REGULATORY COMMISSION
U.S. DEPARTMENT OF THE TREASURY

Re: De Joy's Recommended changes to the USPS

There are so many ways I totally disagree with what De Joy is planning: Delaying First Class mail; Closing Post Offices; Removing blue boxes, etc.

By delaying mail there are so many reasons why that is insane.

- Bills will be late; time sensitive mail will no longer be "time sensitive."
- Medicines that come by mail if left in an area that is hot may lose their effectiveness
- Medicines that are required to stay cold and are laying around somewhere because De Joy wants to make the USPS as inefficient as possible will be useless.

The USPS "before De Joy" was efficient: mail and packages were on time; I had full confidence that if I put a payment in the mail box it would be sent out in an efficient manner, and I was proud of USPS and its employees.

The last time De Joy screwed around with the USPS around Christmas time or a little before it was disastrous. Just ask the millions of people who normally got their mail on time now it was a waiting game.

PLEASE don't let him ruin the USPS and make getting and sending mail a disaster.

Can't we PLEASE replace De Joy with someone who cares about the USPS employees and the many people who rely on the USPS with the experience to do a good job.

Sincerely

Lynda Rose

4342 Trenton Ave
Palmdale, CA 93552

Don't let De Joy ruin the USPS

ose
Trenton Avenue
ale, California
-4326

SANTA CLARITA CA 913

26 MAY 2021 PM 2 L

Postal Regulatory Commission
901 New York Ave, NW Suite 200
Washington, DC

20001-583350

